

SAMPLE EVALUATIVE SENTENCES

When gauging the importance of the statistics given by the author, one can see the impact of the sheer numbers in convincing the world of the need for change.

Diagnosing the complex action of the Korean government, it is imperative to see the connection between the state and the people.

When assessing the final product of the study it was determined to continue the process.

Allowing for the shifting changes the people have in the process of emancipation it is crucial to evaluate the need for improvement in the growing aspect of the economy.

When calculating the importance of diversity to the new enterprise it is invaluable to the central mission of corporate model.

When weighing the alternative to ending the practice it is vital to consider the power of the people to initiate change.

An appraisal of the current situation is evident when one looks at the overall results of the data.

The price that was paid to improve the value of the sea scape was undoubtedly an extended return of the efforts to control the sea.

An assessment of the situation in Germany was determined to be worth the cost of the time and benefits that the example illustrates.

In the final assessment, it can be seen to be a combination of value and quality of the returns when the study was replicated.

The final calculation made by the president illustrates the wisdom of the previous practice.

When diagnosing the value of the study to the design of new technology it is apparent that the decision was a good one.

A judgement can be made that the impact of hydration to the body is more important than the length of the time and effort extracted.

The universal finding taken from the study was more impactful than the data itself.

Prudence is the final decision when it comes to introducing this new technology.

The resulting decision to annihilate the Jews was ultimately the determining factor in the Final Solution.

The wisdom that the Third Reich would be a new world order was fallacious and as a result it was just an efficient killing machine.

When discriminating filters are set in place, the people were just ordinary Germans.

When viewing the downturn in the economy housing starts were a key factor in determining the cause of the crash.